Meet Our Wells Co GOP Primary Candidates

Brian Lambert, Candidate Wells County Council, District 1

My name is Brian Lambert and I am a candidate for the Republican primary for county council district 1. My wife, Lacey (McCartney), and I have three children all attending BHMSD, Nolan, Vince and Clare. Together we also own and operate Bluffton Strength and Conditioning as well as farm with my family. Families and farmers in my district need a strong voice that leans heavily on the history of our nation, yet is in touch with current community circumstances. Our country's constitution is foundational for decisions on the local level and I am ready to defend the constitution for the protection of freedom in Wells County. I understand the issues facing citizens in my district on a personal level because I am a sixth generation Rock Creek Township farmer. Through the camaraderie of our local farm community, I know the struggles and concerns of Wells County farmers. As a small business owner, I know the hardships government can impose if not restrained. All of these voices should be heard at the local government level so decisions can be made that correspond with the will of the people. As a farmer, business owner, and parent with kids in our local public schools, I face the same challenges as my fellow citizens and will bring that perspective to council.

My goals for Wells County's County Council:

- Prevent Government Overreach
- Government Accountability and Transparency
- Fiscal Responsibility

I'm running to be a servant to the people of Wells County and bring their voice to the table.

Mike Mossburg, Candidate Wells County Council, District 1

I was born and raised here in Wells County. I attended Southern Wells Schools and Purdue University. I have been married to my wife Shelley for 37 years and have two wonderful daughters, Chelsea Mossburg and Olivia Binegar. I grew up just south of Liberty Center working on the family farm until 1985. I moved to Ithaca, Michigan for 3 years working in corn research and development. In 1989, I moved back to Indiana, where I took a position with Tech Services, Inc. based in Fairmount, IN as the manager of all field testing.

In 1995, I purchased Tech Services and moved the company to Southern Wells County. The company currently employs 14 full-time staff and up to 40 seasonal personnel in 12 states. I have successfully grown my business here in Wells County. Today, we conduct field trials for over 150 Agriculture companies in corn, soybeans, and wheat, in addition to operating a 1,200-acre grain farming operation.

I had formerly served on the County Council for 8 years and moved some long overdue projects forward and currently serve as president of the Wells County RSD. Working on several key issues that had been put off for far too long. The cost of Infrastructure has only gone up, and now it is costing all taxpayers much more to make those improvements. When making the hard decisions it is always best to keep the politics out of it. As the fiscal body of the county, it makes sense to have a solid fiscal plan. I always work toward my goals with a plan. Continuing to delay is a self-defeating strategy. Strong leadership and making good choices for tax revenue should be a top priority for all elected officials.
